CompatibL and d-fine Announce Partnership

CompatibL and d-fine announce a new partnership to bring together the best aspects of their technologies.

Princeton, New Jersey and Frankfurt, Germany | 07.05.2021

CompatibL, a recognized leading provider of risk management solutions, and d-fine, a European consulting firm handling complex technological and analytical projects, today announced a new partnership.

Both CompatibL and d-fine are well known in the financial technology industry for their innovative solutions and extensive experience of working with banks, exchanges, central banks, regulators, asset managers, and other financial market bodies across all business sectors.

The initial focus areas of this partnership include expanding the companies' geographic reach and strengthening their offerings in the DACH region, advancing machine learning potential, and enabling the seamless integration of the companies' offerings in joint projects.

Igor Tsitavets, the Chief Executive Officer of CompatibL, said: "We are pleased to partner with d-fine, a leading consulting firm with stellar reputation and extensive experience in banking and capital markets. With the powerful combination of CompatibL Platform and d-fine's unparalleled analytical and quantitative talent and expertise, together we can deliver the best software and services for financial institutions around the world."

"Our partnership with CompatibL is based on our strong shared vision for risk management. We are bringing together our highest software delivery standards, d-fine's unique holistic understanding of business requirements, analytical and quantitative methods, and CompatibL's longstanding engineering expertise in risk management systems," said Holger Plank, Partner at d-fine.
